

THE UNIVERSITY OF NOTTINGHAM

It is hereby certified that after having satisfied all the conditions prescribed by the University

MARCELO DENIS WOO

was on the eighth day of December, 2021 duly admitted to the degree of

Master of Research in Economics

President and Vice-Chancellor

Registrar

This Diploma Supplement follows the model developed by the European Commission, Council of Europe and UNESCO/CEPES. The purpose of the Supplement is to provide sufficient independent data to improve the international "transparency" and fair academic and professional recognition of qualification (diplomas, degrees, certificates, etc.). It provides a description of the nature, level, context, content and status of the studies that were pursued and successfully completed by the individual named on the original qualification to which this supplement is appended.

3.3 Access requirements

Information on the minimum qualifications necessary to be considered for entry to a course (including English language requirements, other required skills or experience) is given in the relevant Programme Specification available at: http://programmespec.nottingham.ac.uk/nottingham/asp/course_search.asp

4.2 Programme requirements

A Programme Specification is produced for any course on which a student may be registered. Information on the course structure, assessment criteria, learning outcomes and any other requirements which are in addition to those stated in the University's study regulations (<http://www.nottingham.ac.uk/academicservices/qualitymanual/assessmentandawards/assessment-index-page.aspx>) and the University of Nottingham's Qualifications Framework (<http://www.nottingham.ac.uk/academicservices/qualitymanual/curriculum/unqfindex.aspx>) are given in the relevant Programme Specification available at http://programmespec.nottingham.ac.uk/nottingham/asp/course_search.asp

Information on modules taught at the University of Nottingham for the current session is available from the Module Catalogue available at: <http://modulecatalogue.nottingham.ac.uk/nottingham/>. For information on modules taught in previous sessions please e-mail: module-specifications@nottingham.ac.uk.

University policies and procedures as set out in University Regulations (<http://www.nottingham.ac.uk/regulations>) and the Quality Manual (<http://www.nottingham.ac.uk/quality-manual>) automatically apply to all courses.

Taught postgraduate credit structure

Each individual module has a credit value, which contributes to the academic year. University of Nottingham credit values are translated into ECTS credit values by dividing the Nottingham credit value by two.

10 hours of student workload per 1 credit
120 credits per full-time academic year or equivalent
180 credits per twelve month full-time study
540 credits for award of Practitioner Doctorate
180 credits for award of Masters degree
120 credits for award of Postgraduate Diploma
60 credits for award of Postgraduate Certificate

There may be exceptions to the standard credit totals owing to Recognition of Other (Experiential) Learning (RO(E)L).

4.4 GRADING SCHEME AND, IF AVAILABLE, GRADE DISTRIBUTION GUIDANCE

For the majority of awards, numeric marks are awarded on the scale 0-100. The module pass mark is 50% for Masters and Practitioner Doctorate degrees, and 50% for Postgraduate Diplomas and Certificates.

Compensation and reassessment

Candidates normally have the right to reassessment attempts. If applicable these marks are shown in the Resit column(s).

Information on the award of credit, progression, compensation and reassessment is contained in the University's study regulations available at: <http://www.nottingham.ac.uk/academicservices/qualitymanual/assessmentandawards/assessment-index-page.aspx>

Awards

Full information on the rules for the award of Taught Masters Degrees, Postgraduate Diplomas and Postgraduate Certificates are contained in the University's Taught Postgraduate Regulations available at: <http://www.nottingham.ac.uk/academicservices/qualitymanual/assessmentandawards/index-page-pgt-regulations.aspx>. For the majority of awards, the weighted numerical average is translated into degree award as follows:

With Distinction = 70%+
With merit = 60% - 69%
Pass = 50% - 59%

For Postgraduate Awards, the degree classification section of the Diploma Supplement is blank. If the award is made with Merit or Distinction, this appears in the Special Award section.

Rounding

The University convention on rounding of numeric marks is available at: <http://www.nottingham.ac.uk/academicservices/qualitymanual/assessmentandawards/markings-and-grading.aspx>.

Use of borderlines

The University convention on the use of borderlines is available at: <http://www.nottingham.ac.uk/academicservices/qualitymanual/assessmentandawards/degree-classification.aspx>. The Examination Board may use the procedure set out in the relevant Programme Specification (http://programmespec.nottingham.ac.uk/nottingham/asp/course_search.asp) to determine if the classification of borderline candidates may be raised.

5 INFORMATION ON THE FUNCTION OF THE QUALIFICATION

5.1 Access to further study

Subject to attainment of the minimum qualifications necessary to be considered for entry to a course, satisfactory completion of a University of Nottingham Masters degree provides access to Doctoral programmes.

5.2 Professional status

Information on the accreditation, professional or statutory recognition of a course (if applicable) is given in the relevant Programme Specification accessible through the University's website at: http://programmespec.nottingham.ac.uk/nottingham/asp/course_search.asp. Information on the current professional standing of the holder of a University of Nottingham award may be obtained from the relevant professional or statutory body.

Description of Higher Education in England, Wales and Northern Ireland

In England, Wales and Northern Ireland¹, higher education institutions are independent, self-governing bodies active in teaching, research and scholarship. They are established by Royal Charter or legislation and most are part-funded by government.

Higher education (HE) is provided by many different types of institution. In addition to universities and university colleges, whose charters and statutes are made through the Privy Council which advises the Queen on the granting of Royal Charters and incorporation of universities, there are a number of publicly-designated and autonomous institutions within the higher education sector. Publicly funded higher education provision is available in some colleges of further education by the authority of another duly empowered institution. Teaching to prepare students for the award of higher education qualifications can be conducted in any higher education institution and in some further education colleges.

Degree awarding powers and the title 'university'

All universities and many higher education colleges have the legal power to develop their own courses and award their own degrees, as well as determine the conditions on which they are awarded. Some HE colleges and specialist institutions without these powers offer programmes, with varying extents of devolved authority, leading to the degrees of an institution which does have them. All universities in existence before 2005 have the power to award degrees on the basis of completion of taught courses and the power to award research degrees. From 2005, institutions in England and Wales that award only taught degrees ('first' and 'second cycle') and which meet certain numerical criteria, may also be permitted to use the title 'university'. Higher education institutions that award only taught degrees but which do not meet the numerical criteria may apply to use the title 'university college', although not all choose to do so. All of these institutions are subject to the same regulatory quality assurance and funding requirements as universities; and all institutions decide for themselves which students to admit and which staff to appoint. Degrees and other higher education qualifications are legally owned by the awarding institution, not by the state. The names of institutions with their own degree awarding powers ("Recognised Bodies") are available for download at: <http://www.bis.gov.uk/policies/higher-education/recognised-uk-degrees/recognised-bodies>.

Higher education institutions, further education colleges and other organisations able to offer courses leading to a degree of a Recognised Body are listed by the English, Welsh and Northern Irish authorities, and are known as "Listed Bodies". View the list at: <http://www.bis.gov.uk/policies/higher-education/recognised-uk-degrees/listed-bodies>.

Qualifications

The types of qualifications awarded by higher education institutions at sub-degree and undergraduate (first cycle) and postgraduate level (second and third cycles) are described in the Framework for Higher Education Qualifications in England, Wales and Northern Ireland (FHEQ). This also includes qualification descriptors that were developed with the HE sector by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education (QAA - established in 1997 as an independent UK-wide body to monitor the standard of higher education provision - www.qaa.ac.uk). The FHEQ was self-certified as compatible with the Framework for Qualifications of the European Higher Education Area, the qualifications framework adopted as part of the Bologna Process, in February 2009. Foundation degrees, designed to create intermediate awards strongly oriented towards specific employment opportunities, were introduced in 2001. In terms of the European Higher Education Area they are "short cycle" qualifications within the first cycle. The FHEQ is one component of the Credit and Qualifications Framework for Wales (CQFW). The Qualifications and Curriculum Authority (QCA), the Department for Children, Education, Lifelong Learning and Skills, Wales (DCELLS) and the Council for Curriculum Examination and Assessment, Northern Ireland (CCEA) have established the Qualifications and Credit Framework (to replace, in time, the National Qualifications Framework (NQF)). These authorities regulate a number of professional, statutory and other awarding bodies which control VET and general qualifications at all levels. The QCF is also incorporated into the CQFW. There is a close association between the levels of the FHEQ and the NQF (as shown overleaf), and other frameworks of the UK and Ireland (see 'Qualifications can cross Boundaries' <http://www.qaa.ac.uk/en/Publications/Documents/qualifications-can-cross-boundaries.pdf>)

Quality Assurance

Academic standards are established and maintained by higher education institutions themselves using an extensive and sophisticated range of shared quality assurance approaches and structures. Standards and quality in institutions are underpinned by the universal use of external examiners, a standard set of indicators and other reports, by the activities of the QAA, and in professional areas by relevant professional, statutory and regulatory bodies. This ensures that institutions meet national expectations described in the FHEQ: subject benchmark statements, the Code of Practice and programme specifications. QAA conducts peer-review based audits and reviews of higher education institutions with the opportunity for subject-based review as the need arises. The accuracy and adequacy of quality-related information published by the higher education institutions is also reviewed. QAA also reviews publicly funded higher education provision in further education colleges.

Credit Systems

Most higher education institutions in England and Northern Ireland belong to one of several credit consortia and some operate local credit accumulation and transfer systems for students moving between programmes and/or institutions. A framework of national guidelines, the Higher Education Credit Framework for England, was launched in 2008. Credit is also an integral part of the CQFW and the QCF. It may be possible for credit awarded in one framework to be recognised by education providers whose qualifications sit within a different framework. HE credit systems in use in England, Wales and Northern Ireland are compatible with the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS) for accumulation and transfers within the European Higher Education Area, and are used to recognise learning gained by students in institutions elsewhere in Europe.

Admission

The most common qualification for entry to higher education is the General Certificate of Education at 'Advanced' (A) level. Other appropriate NQF level 3 qualifications and the kite-marked Access to HE Diploma may also provide entry to HE. Level 3 qualifications in the CQFW, including the Welsh Baccalaureate, also provide entry, as do Scottish Highers, Advanced Highers or qualifications at the same levels of the Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework. Part-time and mature students may enter HE with these qualifications or alternatives with evidenced equivalent prior formal and/or experiential learning. Institutions will admit students whom they believe to have the potential to complete their programmes successfully.

¹The UK has a system of devolved government, including for higher education, to Scotland, to Wales and to Northern Ireland. This description is approved by the High Level Policy Forum which includes representatives of the Department for Business, Innovation and Skills, the Scottish Government, the Welsh Assembly Government, the Higher Education Funding Councils for England, Scotland and Wales, the Quality Assurance Agency (QAA), Universities UK (UUK), GuildHE and the National Recognition Information Centre for the UK (UK NARIC).
